LAND CITT, Fla., March 10.—Three Federal
gunbosts and two transports came up the St.
John's River to Jacksonville this morning, and landed a force of negro traops, shrowing out pickets as he as the brickyards, a mile and a half distant. Our troops are being moved to within three miles of the jown, and a tight is expected in the morning.

LANN CITT, Th., March 11.—Our forces attacked the enemy near Jacksonville this morning, at v o'clock. After hard fighting for twenty minutes we charged them, when they retreated in haste to their gunbests. Our infantry pursued them into town, and when near the Jackson House square, or countered another force of the enemy, which was also driven take. One mail and three horses were killed on our tide. The loss of the enemy is not known. We captured a set of surgical instruments, which showed signs of recent use. The numbers engaged are not known.

The evidence brought out by the Commission, convened for the investigation of his duty. The exidence brought out by the Commission, convenies for the investigation of his case, shows that he acted under premptory every from General Davies, and that he reinct satily obeyed them. Col. Scott was fully larformed of his position, and represented himself to Davies, as able and easiest to hold the place. He remonstrated against the destraction of the property, as unwise and nameous arr. So considers was he, that the proposed to leave one company to hold New Madril, with a small bost, for escape, if necessary and to delay spliting the guns until the last moment; but in all his efforts to prevent the order to excente being issued, he was oversuled. Let the responsibility fall where it may, it is clear that Colume Scott has no mare in it, and that the course he proposed, would have saved the country much movilication, had it been adopted. The statement of the capture of Colonel Higginson's black brigade was expressly circulated by the Department, as has now transpired to cover his real movement. The rebellion will shortly give tokens of internal disease, and the rebels lately rejoicing over a lie (scarcely under the circumstances to be called white) which Mrs. Opic would have pardoned, are already awaking, and quaking at the truth.

While presenting to the enemy a bold and unbreken front, they have, without a countermarch or the discharge of a single gun, defeated a more dangerous and malignant enemy in their rear; and to-day the improved appearance of matters here in the North, and the renework hope that fills every loyal heart, are due not so much to what the North had done as to the particular back, and as a medicles, in a hundred, the souldiers stand.

We have to-day another batch of resolutions and addresses from the field, in which the assurances of ficelity and patriotism of the whole army are renewed. They will survey engage the stention and call forth the warm approbation of our readers.

THE GIERAT REACTION.

The extent and force of the reaction in the hiddle and Eastern States against the schemes of the Copperheads, is both surprising and gratifying to the carnest friends of the loyal cause. And though the work west has not yet equalled the East in their revolution, we have the gratifying announcement to send to New York and New England, that the good work is here grigg on; and that the danger in all the present surmounted. We ough, perhaps, to exceed Indians. In the State States.

and we shall be mistaken if he does not wield the powers reposed in his hands, with great discretion and with signal advantage to the loyal cause.

The Cheinanti Change dis has a curious letter from Washington, stating that Major General Low Wallace, Major General Ord, and Major General Low Wallace, Major General Ord, and a Major General Don Piatt, of the Buell Commission; were down there the other day, Wallace seeking for an independent command somewhere, ord after steamed oysters, and and Pisti to fill his belly with east wind. They got a hot reception from Halleck and Stanton. Inquiry was made, "Well, what are you doing here?" Stanton swore he would cashier the whole crowd; yes, he'd have the shoulder-strape of of them, double stars, gold lesves and all. Wallace and Pisti escaped. The reason was their roving commission as president and judge advocate in the Buell inquiry. They were told to travel; to do so without delay. They called for a hack after their cheerful interview with Halleck, and paid the driver to the depot. The train was gone, however, but when the next one started they were punctually on hand. Ord is actually constrant to Carllale harrants. Stanton estarted they soon it begins. They are now sure that it will be well done. THE LATE GEN. SUMNER. The markets yesterday took a chill. The financial barometer noted a fall in gold and cotton, which made a sensation in business circles, and caused lame ducks to abound. As this is based on caused at which every loyal man is rejoicing, there will be less sympathy with the sufferers, certainly of that sort of sympathy which would wish their woe alleviated. The cheering tokens from Washington that Sceretary Chase has achieved a victory in Treasury matters, whose solid fruits are pouring in; the abundant proofs of an increasing despondency in their cause among the rebels; the premising look of the campaign just opening; are all so many weights removed from the end of the beam that carried up gold. No loyal man, though he be himself a sufferer, but will rejoice in the aspects presented yesterday and now crowding in upon us. The Government is to be sustained. Our cause will not fail. The days of the rebellion are numbered. We shall under Providence be triumphant in arms, and successful in finance. That was what was the matter yesterday.

She is evidently one of those manly women who are not much given at any time, to the melting mood, partly owing to the original granite in her asture, and, partly from her indiasoluble union with her frosty partner.

But this pretty rebel lady is tame and commonpiace in all the features of her character, compared with the sweetheart of one Mr. W. F. Lackett, who writes to her "darling Frank" from the fumous city of St. Louis, under date of Feb. 2d.

This is an untameable Leopardess, her beautiful skin pitted all over with rebel spots which she regards as the highest expressions of lovellness, and by no means as blemishes. To hear her but whinny over them, and cosen herself for the having of them, is enough to make one in love with deformity itself, on account of the altogether infinite satisfaction which it must bring, in comparison, to the fortunate possessor of it.

She prizes her rebel points and qualities as the best part of her, and boasts that, although in the presence of "Miss Louy, our intelligent controband, who watches us so closely with her Federal eyes, we do nothing but ile from morning till night; yet, we manage to cheat the cunning, black minx, and send messages of sid and comfort to our rebel brothers over yonder, and far away."

men dare talk such treason and lift their voice against the Government. He says any man thus acting is regarded as a traitor by the army, which is united in determination to continue the war to victory. He hopes any one resisting conscription, will be hung to the first tree. He appeals to all men to put their shoulders to the wheel, and thus accure a speedy triumph to our esuss.

Mr. Currie said:

It is pleasing to learn from the address the whilst the Government has not been unmind ful of the interests of the East; and of the importance of direct railway communication with the scaboard through the Eastern provinces, it has paid some attention to the tradition of the seaboard through the Eastern provinces, it has paid some attention to the tradition of the several of the newspapers, that upos the opening of navigation aregular mail to the Edd River settlement is sgain to be furnished by our Post Office Department. In my judgment it is full time that the imperial authorities and our own Government took a greater interest than they have hitherto done in these Western possessions. From a report lately published by Mr. Chase, the Secretary of the American Treasury, and printed under a resolution of Congress, I observe that our Americanneighbors, notwithstanding the frastrictivity with that now unhappily rages in that once great republic, are not mamindful of either the territory or trade of what they very properly denominate Central British America, a territory that I am convinced will soon be lost to Britain unless it receives more attention in the future than it has enjoyed in the past.
